NOTICE

Is hereby given that a meeting will be held at KENDALLVILLE, Noble County, Ind., on April 13th, 1859, for the purpose of perfecting the organization of an AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, embracing the 10th congressional district. A general attendance is respectfully requested, as the premium list will be arranged at that time and other important business transacted.

Spiritualism

Mrs. E. O. Hyzer will address the citizens of Fort Wayne, on Tuesday evening next, March 22nd at 7 o'clock, at the Court-house. Subject Spiritualism. Admittance 10 cents.

Convention to Amend the Constitution — The act to provide for taking the sense of the voters of the state on calling a convention to amend or alter the constitution, provides that the qualified voters may, at the next October election vote for or against the calling of a convention to alter the constitution of the state. The inspectors of election are to ask each voter if he is in favor of the convention, and duly record the answer. If a majority of all the votes given in the state be in favor of the convention, then the Governor is to issue a proclamation that delegates are to be elected at the April election, 1860. The convention is to consist of 100 delegates, apportioned as the members of the House of Representatives, and to receive the same per diem and mileage as the Legislature. This would give Allen Co. two delegates. The amended Constitution is to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State — the Convention to have power to submit one or more amendments to the vote of the people as distinct propositions; the Governor to lay said amended Constitution before the General Assembly at its next meeting, thereafter, whose duty it shall be to pass all proper laws to submit the same to the qualified voters of the state for their approval or rejection, and also for organizing the government under the amended Constitution, provided the same should be ratified by such voters.

We have heard no expression of any desire on the part of the people for such movement, and look upon it as mischievous and uncalculated. The present constitution, defective as it may be, is probably better than any new one that the proposed convention would make, and we hope to further endure the evils we now have, than flee to others we know not of — but should be pretty sure to find in the work of the 100 able and disinterested gentlemen who would form the new convention.

Several interests have been at work in getting this bill through. The ultra-temperance men hope to so change the constitution as to give them an opportunity of adopting a Prohibitory Main Law. Others wish the check which the present constitution gives to local legislation removed — one seek to prevent foreigners voting before naturalization; and some to remove the prohibition against free negroes settling in the state. These features in the present constitution were all adopted in obedience to the almost unanimous demand of the people, and we can see no cause for their repeal so soon after their adoption. We do not believe the people wish it, and therefore we oppose the design of calling the convention tinkering the constitution, and imposing on the state a heavy burthen of taxation, for the expenses of the convention, which we are ill prepared to bear.

Another active element in the new project is to be found in the numerous aspiring and self-sufficient politicians we are unfortunately blessed with, who hope to be elected delegates, and to immortalize themselves by their exploits in constitution-making. They are a class we have but little sympathy with, and their efforts in this behalf should be sufficient to warn all prudent men against voting for the convention.

Next Congress — Parties will probably be nearly balanced in the next House of Representatives. Of the members already elected, 35 are Democrats, 13 Anti LeComptons, and 102 Republicans. Those to elect are estimated — 73 Democrats, 7 Republicans, and 7 Americans. Total 108 Democrats, 13 Anti LeComptons, 109 Republicans, 7 Americans. The Americans and Anti LeComptons will have the balance of power.

New Jersey — The Legislature of New Jersey have elected J. H. C. Tenwick, Rep. to the U. S. Senate, in place of Hon. Wm. Wright whose term has exp'd. The vote stood — Tenwick 42, Brown, Dem. 24 Stockton 2, Wright 3.

Garden Seeds — The snow-covered ground this morning does not look much like gardening, but as we think it probable that after a while we may have spring, we refer those who intend having a garden, to the advertisement of Meyer & Brother, who have for sale a general assortment of garden seeds, plants, &c., from some of the best seedsmen in this country and Europe.

Panorama of the Arctic Regions — This splendid work of art was exhibited here four evenings, and on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, to large and respectable audiences. So far as we have heard an exhibition will appear to have been closed. I and I grieved with it. It gives the beholder a most life-like and vivid representation of the wonders of nature as displayed in the arctic regions, and the dangers and horrors to which Dr. Kane and his brave crew were exposed. Some of the views, more especially the moonlight scenes and representation of the aurora borealis are truly magnificent, and beyond our powers of language adequately to describe. The panorama is truly worthy the liberal patronage it has met with in every place where exhibited.

It will be seen that out of ten appointments only six have been given to Indiana — which all things considered, is certainly reasonable, and the only wonder is, that it was necessary for the Governor to look to the balance of the State for the remaining four. Paris is said to be France; and Indiana's certainly is Indiana, so far as executive factors are concerned. It is a new constitution should be formed, it might be a good idea to incorporate a provision in it that none but citizens of that modest and much deserving state should hereafter be considered eligible to hold any office in the gift of the executive.

Perhaps another provision — that the officers of State, and citizens of Indianapolis generally should have free access to the public treasury without any ugly penal clause inflicting imprisonment in the Penitentiary for embezzlement, would also be considered just and proper.

Board of Equalization — An act of the late Legislature provides that on the Wednesday after the third Monday in June, after the meeting of the County Boards of Equalization, the Auditors of the several counties in each congressional district are to meet together at an appointed place and form a District Board of Equalization for the purpose of equalizing the rate of appraisement in the several counties. Delegates from the District Boards are to assemble at Indianapolis on the first Monday in July, and with the Auditor of State as President, to form a State Board, whose duty it will be to compare the reports of the District Boards, with the corrections and changes made thereby, and equalize the appraisement of lands in the several districts and counties in the state.

The Board for the 10th District is to meet at Kendallville, Noble Co.

Fair, &c., of St. Patrick's School Society

The St. Patrick's School Society, appropriately celebrated the anniversary of their parent saint, on Thursday, March 17th. In the morning, the society, gaily decorated with green sash bangles, bearing a likeness of St. Patrick and appropriate inscriptions, and neatly trimmed with gold lace and fringe, formed in procession together with the children of the school, accompanied by O'F's Band, and marched to the church, where an eloquent address on the life and character of St. Patrick was delivered by Father Kilroy, of LaPorte.

In the evening the ladies had a fair and supper which far exceeded anything of the kind ever got up here. The supper was choice and well arranged, with a profusion of every thing that could tempt the palate; while the numerous beautiful and exquisitely designed useful and fancy articles offered for sale, spoke volumes in favor of the skill, industry, and good taste of the fair hands engaged in their manufacture. The large hall was crowded to its utmost extent, and many had to return home without being able to effect an entrance. It is computed that not less than 1,000 persons were present. Every thing went off pleasantly and satisfactorily, bearing evidence as well of the good management of the directors as of the good feeling inspiring the crowded assemblage.

Seven of eight hundred persons partook of the supper; yet so abundant were the viands provided, that a quantity sufficient to feed as many more was next day distributed among the poor. One thing which added much to the convenience of the arrangements was the full supply of every requisite in the glassware and gauds department, which we understood were supplied by Mr. Ward from his extensive wholesale depot.

The fair attendants on the various tables for the sale of fancy articles, ice cream, confectionaries, &c., were kept busy as bees, and gathered a rich harvest. But the crowd was so great that many were unable to get to the tables, and the stock of articles was so seemingly inexhaustible that a large amount remained unused at the close. The receipts of the night were $381.38.

Last night the fair was again opened for the sale of what remained. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, some 400 or 500 persons were there. The competition among buyers was brisk, and we believe every article was sold. The receipts amounted to $272.10; making a total for the two nights of $603.48.

We were gratified to observe the general attendance at this supper. All sects, creeds, and parties were fully and fairly represented, and all met and parted with kindness and Christian good feeling. This is the first public appeal the ladies of that church have ever made — (we trust it may not be the last) — and it is honorable to the liberality of our citizens that it was so freely responded to.

In conclusion we are desirous by the Society to express their most grateful and sincere thanks to the public for their liberality: also to those who donated or made articles for the fair, and those whose zealous and efficient services contributed so materially to its success.

The next Presidency — The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says he has the best authority for stating that Senator Douglas will not be before the Charleston Convention as a candidate for the Presidency. He will be one of the delegates and will have a considerable share in determining who the nominee shall be. Democratic opinion seems to be that the present constitution gives to local legislation a preference over the national — one seek to prevent foreigners voting before naturalization; and some to remove the prohibition against free negroes settling in the state. These features in the present constitution were all adopted in obedience to the almost unanimous demand of the people, and we can see no cause for their repeal so soon after their adoption. We do not believe the people wish it, and therefore we oppose the design of calling the convention tinkering the constitution, and imposing on the state a heavy burthen of taxation, for the expenses of the convention, which we are ill prepared to bear.

Another active element in the new project is to be found in the numerous aspiring and self-sufficient politicians we are unfortunately blessed with, who hope to be elected delegates, and to immortalize themselves by their exploits in constitution-making. They are a class we have but little sympathy with, and their efforts in this behalf should be sufficient to warn all prudent men against voting for the convention.

Appointments by the Governor — Indianapolis Liberally Provided for — The State Sentinel gives the following list of appointments, in which it will be seen that the claims of citizens of our state capital for due proportion of the spoils of office have been fully recognized by the Governor.

John W. Blake of Clinton county; John P. Dunn, of Marion county (1) and B. F. Muller of Ripley county. Directors to constitute a Board of Control to locate and superintend the letting and construction of a new State Prison, north of the National road.

W. H. Talbot, of Marion county (2) President of the Board of Trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, the Asylum for the Blind, and of the Commissioners of the Hospital for the Insane.

E. J. Peck and Henry Brady, of Marion county (3) Commissioners of the Hospital for the Insane.

Garden Seeds — The snow-covered ground this morning does not look much like gardening, but as we think it probable that after a while we may have spring, we refer those who intend having a garden, to the advertisement of Meyer & Brother, who have for sale a general assortment of garden seeds, plants, &c., from some of the best seedsmen in this country and Europe.

From what we have seen and heard during the winter just spent at the Capital, we are decidedly of the opinion that our correspondent has named the man who is to receive the next nomination for Governor. Since his eloquent speech in the Hall of the House of Representatives, during the extra session, there has been a growing interest in favor of Mr. Dunham. His effort on that occasion dispelled all gloom; removed all doubt, kindled a fire in every true Democrat heart, and made all feel that such a leader the old, faithful and constitutional party must still succeed.

Added to his ability as a speaker, and his position as a Democrat, Mr. Dunham is in every other particular eminently worthy of Gubernatorial honors, and we shall be much mistaken if he does not receive them. We are with "Democrats" for Dunham! — Frankfort Crescent.

Conventions to Amend the Constitution

The act to provide for taking the sense of the voters of the state on calling a convention to amend or alter the constitution, provides that the qualified voters may, at the next October election vote for or against the calling of a convention to alter the constitution of the state. The inspectors of elections are to ask each voter if he is in favor of the convention, and duly record the answer. If a majority of all the votes given in the state be in favor of the convention, then the Governor is to issue a proclamation that delegates are to be elected at the April election, 1850. The convention is to consist of 100 delegates, apportioned to the members of the House of Representatives, and to receive the sum per diem and mileage, as in the Legislature. This would give Allen Co. two delegates. The intended Constitution is to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State—the Conference to have power to submit one or more amendments to the vote of the people as distinct propositions; the Governor to lay the intended Constitution before the General Assembly at its next meeting, thereafter, whose duty it shall be to pass all proper laws to submit the same to the qualified voters of the State for their approval or rejection, and also to organize the government under the intended Constitution, provided the same should be ratified by such voters.

We have had no expression of any desire on the part of the people for such movement, and look upon it, as mischievous and unwise for the present constitution, defective as it may be, is probably better than any new one that the proposed convention would make, and we had rather endorse the evils we now have, than flee to others we know not of—but should be pretty sure to find in the new 10th able and disinterested gentlemen who would form the new convention.

Several interests have been at work in getting this bill through. The ultra-temperance movement to change the constitution as to give them an opportunity of adopting a Prohibition Model Law. Others wish the effect which the present constitution gives to local legislation, remove—no rock to prevent foreigns—sugar, not industrial—and come to remove the prohibition against free negroes settling in the state. These features in the present constitution were all adopted in obedience to the almost unanimous demand of the people, and we can see no cause for their repeal so soon after their adoption. We do not believe the people wish it, and therefore we oppose the design of calling the convention tinkering the constitution, and imposing on the state a heavy burden of taxation, for the expenses of the convention, which we are fully prepared to bear.

Another active element in the new project is to be found in the numerous aspiring and self-sufficient politicians we are unfortunately blessed with, who hope to be elected delegates, and to immortalize themselves by their exploits in conventionmaking. They are a crew we have but little sympathy with, and their efforts in this behalf should be sufficient to earn all present contempt among you for the convention.

Appointments by the Governor—Indianapolis Liberty Prized for—The State-Sanctuary gives the following list of appointments, in which it will be seen that the claims of citizens of our state capital for their due proportion of the spoils of office have been fully recognized by the Governor.

John W. Blake of Clinton county; John P. Dunn of Marion county (?) and E. P. Muller of Ripley county, Directors to constitute a Board of Control to locate and superintend the letting and construction of a new State Prison, north of the National road.

W. H. Talbot of Marion county, (?) President of the Board of Trustees of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, the Asylum for the Blind, and of the Commissioners of the Hospital for the Insane.

Thomas N. Wooley of Johnson county, and John M. Kitchen of Marion county (!!!) Trustees of the Institution for the education of the Deaf and Dumb.

M. Fligginson of Marion county (!!!) and H. G. Holziger of Boone county, Trustees of the Asylum for the Blind.

It will be seen that out of these appointments only six have been given to Indianapolis—which all things considered, is certainly reasonable, and the only wonder is, that it was necessary for the Governor to look in the balance of the State for the remaining four. This is said to be France, and Indianapolis certainly is fortunate, so far as executive favors are concerned. If a new constitution should be adopted, it might be a good idea to incorporate a provision in it that none but citizens of that modest and much deserving city should hereafter be considered eligible to hold any office in the gift of the executive.

Perhaps another provision—that the officers of State, and citizens of Indianapolis generally should have free access to the public treasury, without any ugly penal clause inflicting imprisonment in the Penitentiary for embezzlement, would also be considered just and proper.

Board of Equalization.—An act of the 1st Legislature provides that on the Wednesday after the third Monday in June, after the meeting of the County Boards of Equalization, the Auditors of the several counties in each congressional district are to meet together at an appointed place and form a District Board of Equalization for the purpose of equalizing the rate of appraisement in the several counties. Delegates from the District Boards are to assemble at Indianapolis on the first Monday in July, and with the Auditor of State as President, to form a State Board, whose duty it will be to compare the reports of the District Boards, with the corrections and changes made thereby, and equalize the appraisement of lands in the several districts and counties in the state.

The Board for the 10th District is to meet at Kendallville, Noble Co.

Bar, &c., of St. Patrick's School Society.

The St. Patrick's School Society, appropriately celebrated the anniversary of their patron saint, on Thursday, March 17th. In the morning, the society, gaily decorated with green bunting, bearing a likeness of St. Patrick and appropriate inscriptions, and neatly trimmed with gold lace and fringe, formed in procession together with the children of the school, accompanied by Old St. Land, and marched to the church, where an eloquent address on the life and character of St. Patrick was delivered by Father Kirby, of Taylor.

In the evening the ladies had a fair and supper which far exceeded anything of the kind ever got up here. The supper was choice and well arranged, with a profusion of every thing that could tempt the palate; while the numerous and fancy articles offered for sale, spoke volume in favor of the skill, industry, and good taste of the fair hands engaged in their manufacture. The large hall was crowded to its utmost extent and many had to return home without being able to effect an entrance. It is computed that not less than 1,000 persons were present. Every thing went off pleasantly and satisfactorily, leaving evidence as well of the good management of the directors, as of the good feeling inspiring the crowded assemblage.

Seven of the hundred persons parlor of the supper; yet so abundant were the funds provided, that a quantity sufficient to feed us many more, was next day distributed among the poor. One thing which added much to the convenience of the arrangements was the full supply of every requisite in the glassware and silverware department, which we understood were supplied by Mr. Ward from his extensive wholesale depot.

The fair individuals on the various tables for the sale of fancy articles, we steamer, confectionaries, &c., were kept busy as bees, and gathered a rich harvest. But the crowd was so great that many were unable to get to the tables, and the stock of articles was so seemingly insatiable, that a large amount remained unsold at the close. The receipts of the night were $531.38.

Last night the fair was again opened for the sale of what remained. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, some 400 or 500 persons attended. The competition among buyers was brisk, and we believe every article was sold. The receipts amounted to $272.10; making a total for the two nights of $803.48.

We were gratified to observe the general attention to this supper. All acts, creeds, and parties were fully and fairly represented, and all met and parted with kindness and Christian brotherhood. This small give Allen Co. two delegates. The intended Constitution is to be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State—the Conference to have power to submit one or more amendments to the vote of the people as distinct propositions; the Governor to lay the intended Constitution before the General Assembly at its next meeting, thereafter, whose duty it shall be to pass all proper laws to submit the same to the qualified voters of the State for their approval or rejection, and also to organize the government under the intended Constitution, provided the same should be ratified by such voters.

We have had no expression of any desire on the part of the people for such movement, and look upon it, as mischievous and unwise for the present constitution, defective as it may be, is probably better than any new one that the proposed convention would make, and we had rather endorse the evils we now have, than flee to others we know not of—but should be pretty sure to find in the new 10th able and disinterested gentlemen who would form the new convention.

Several interests have been at work in getting this bill through. The ultra-temperance movement to change the constitution as to give them an opportunity of adopting a Prohibition Model Law. Another active element in the new project is to be found in the numerous aspiring and self-sufficient politicians we are unfortunately blessed with, who hope to be elected delegates, and to immortalize themselves by their exploits in conventionmaking. They are a crew we have but little sympathy with, and their efforts in this behalf should be sufficient to earn all present contempt among you for the convention.

The next Presidency—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says he has the best authority for stating that Senator Douglas will not be in before the Cleveland Convention, to act as a candidate for the Presidency. He will be one of the delegates and will have a considerable share in determining who the nominees shall be. Democratic opinion seems to be settling down between Vice-President Breckinridge and Mr. Lane. The South would prefer H. S. T. as their first choice, but failing to him will divide between Kentucky and Oregon. The North will then settle the controversy.

New Congress—Parties will probably be nearly balanced to the next House of Representatives. Of the members already elected, 35 are Democrats, 15 Anti-Comptons, and 100 Republicans. Those to elect are estimated—73 Democrats, 7 Republicans, and 7 Americans. Total 105 Democrats, 13 Anti-Comptons, 100 Republicans, 7 Americans. The Americans and Anti-Comptons will have the balance of power.

New Jersey—The Legislature of New Jersey have elected John C. Tench, Rep. to the U. S. Senate, in place of Hon. Wm. Wright whose term has expired. The ratification—Trenton, 42, Vernon, 20, Stockton, 2, Wright 3.

Garden Seeds.—The snow-covered ground this morning does not look much like gardening, as we think it probable that after a while we may have spring to water the fields. Those who intend having a garden, to the advantage of Meyer & Butler, who have for sale a general assortment of garden seeds, plants, &c., from some of the best seedmen in this country and Europe.

Panorama of the Arctic Regions.—This splendid work of art was exhibited here four evenings, and on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons to large and respectable audiences. So far as we have heard an impression, all appear to have been satisfied and delighted with it. It gives the beholder a most lifelike and vivid representation of the wonders of nature as displayed in the arctic regions, and the dangers and horrors to which Dr. Knobell and his brave fellows were exposed. Some of the views, more especially the moonlight scenes and representations of the Aurora borealis are truly magnificent, and beyond our power of language adequately to describe. The panorama is truly worthy the liberal patronage it has met with in every place where exhibited.

Governor.—Hon. C. L. Dunham is a popular man, and a good candidate for the office of Indiana. There is no man in Indiana who would meet with more popularity in any part of the State than Mr. Dunham. His Democratic record is unimpeachable, and his political influence is second to none. Uniting and uniting all, he would be a most popular and determined champion, one that could not be successful. As a member of Congress, or in any other capacity in which he has labored heretofore, he has given the best evidences of honesty and integrity—which is sure, always to gain the adhesion of the people.

Unaware as we are of the mistakes of Mr. Dunham, the choice of two-thirds of the Indiana people for Governor, is a most wise and judicious one. He is the choice of the State for the remaining four. This is said to be France, and Indianapolis certainly is fortunate, so far as executive favors are concerned. If a new constitution should be adopted, it might be a good idea to incorporate a provision in it that none but citizens of that modest and much deserving city should hereafter be considered eligible to hold any office in the gift of the executive.

Our next Candidate for Governor—A good Democrat, writing in another place in this paper, suggests the name of the Hon. Cyrus L. Dunham, our present Secretary of State, as our next candidate for Governor. It may be thought by some rather early to commence agitating this question, but all must admit, if we desire success in 1850, much must be done.
